ISRAEL, THE PLANDEMIC & THE GREAT RESET

COVID, CBDCs (R3), “ESSENTIAL BUSINESSES” & GERONTICIDE

Yo, @IDF @MOSSADil! I found your technological lynchpin for those war crimes and biological weapons attacks you committed against America and its millions of White NON-JEW American citizens during the pandemic (and FTX).

And your global digital currency locus of control, which you certainly plan to run through to the BANK OF ISRAEL (ALADDIN/UJA) via PALO ALTO NETWORKS (QUALCOMM/UNIT 8200) and LEUMITECH (Bank Leumi).

👺CONNECTEAM, R3 & STRIPES

✅PAUL MELICHORRE
*STRIPES, Operating Partner
*R3 (CORDA), Chairman

NOTE: R3 is the cross-border digital payments ledger of choice for the major CENTRAL BANKS (Global Jewry control), the NSA, PERKINS COIE, the ETHEREUM ALLIANCE and is the technology chosen for the development of CBDCs.

R3 CHAIRMAN, PAUL MELICHORRE, is an OPERATING PARTNER at STRIPES.

✅SAAGAR KULKARNI
*STRIPES, Partner
*CONNECTEAM, Director & Series C Investor

NOTE: CONNECTEAM is based in TEL AVIV, ISRAEL and is/was the REMOTE BUSINESS MANAGEMENT PLATFORM for “ESSENTIAL BUSINESSES” and SENIOR LIVING FACILITIES during the COVID PLANDEMIC… and was PARTNERED DIRECTLY with CVS CAREMARK. SAAGAR is a DIRECTOR and SERIES C INVESTOR in CONNECTEAM, as well as a PARTNER at STRIPES.

CONNECTEAM is how ISRAEL remotely directed the murder of AMERICAN seniors in senior living facilities and WHITE, NON-JEW AMERICANS in hospitals during the COVID PANDEMIC, from the safety of ISRAEL. Hence, why the “10/7 attack by Hamas”, to justify our “protecting Jews at all costs” and beefing up ISRAEL’S CYBERSECURITY and its MILITARY/DOD SUPPORT, all at the American taxpayer’s expense, of course.

*UnitedHealth Group (Team8/Unit 8200)

*PayPal (Chabad Lubavitch/CCP)
*Snyk (Unit 8200/Markle Fdn/CIA/Sept 11)
*Silicon Valley Bank (Team8/LeumiTech/AI)
*Elevance (Anthem AI/UJA/MDI Health)
*Bain & Company
*Blackstone Group (LeumiTech/CCP/Israel)

As we've recently seen, UNITEDHEALTH GROUP bribes BALLARD PARTNERS (Susie Wiles and Pam Bondi) and is totally infiltrated by UNIT 8200, AIG, CCP operatives and the ISRAELI MINISTRY OF HEALTH.

PS: SNYK was founded by 3 UNIT 8200 VETS, its CEO was awarded a PULITZER PRIZE for the horseshit "write-up" (coverup) he did about the 9/11 attacks.

SNYK is a PORTFOLIO COMPANY of STRIPES and its LEAD DIRECTOR, KATHLEEN MURPHY, also sits on the BOARD OF DIRECTORS of MARKLE FDN (Rockefeller Population Council) alongside GILMAN LOUIE (IQT/CIA), SUZANNE N. JOHNSON (PFIZER/RAND) and CHERYL COHEN EFFRON (BROOKINGS/CENTERVIEW/CFR).

Paul is an Operating Partner focusing on enterprise companies. He currently serves as a board member at Stripes portfolio companies Dataiku, Legion, Paradox, and Spectro Cloud. Prior to joining Stripes, Paul served as President and Chief Revenue Officer of Anaplan, a leading SaaS platform to facilitate financial planning and management, where he saw the company grow from $80 million to $300+ million in Annual Recurring Revenue with over a $7 billion market cap and contributed to a successful IPO in 2018. Prior to Anaplan, Paul served as Global Vice President of Ariba and built the field organization for sales, implementation, service, alliances, and channels, ultimately leading to an acquisition for approximately $5 billion in 2012. Earlier in his career, Paul served as Executive Vice President of Global Accounts at SAP, helping it rise to a global leader in enterprise software. His group was responsible for over 85 percent of revenue in the Americas and a field organization of 1,000+ people. Currently, Paul is Chairman of the Board at R3, an enterprise blockchain technology company. He was previously an independent director at Scout RFP, a sourcing and procurement software company that was acquired by Workday (NASDAQ: WDAY). As the author of "Selling the Cloud: A Playbook for Success in Cloud Software and Enterprise Sales," Paul interviewed 25+ year sales veterans who worked at enterprise-level software companies like Salesforce, Oracle, Cisco, Microsoft, IBM, Zoom, SAP, and DocuSign. The book charts their lessons learned to help modern salespeople thrive.

ONE APP MANAGES 7,000 REMOTE CAREGIVERS AT 115 FRANCHISES
UK's Caremark chooses an Israeli startup's workforce management app to increase productivity and retention among deskless workers.

UK-based national homecare franchise provider Caremark is using an app from Tel Aviv-based Connecteam to manage and engage more than 7,000 remote caregivers across some 115 franchise offices.
According to Caremark CEO David Glover, Caremark needed a better way to engage its distributed deskless workforce and improve communications among its

"The homecare industry employs hundreds of thousands of people in multiple locations, all working tirelessly to assist people in their homes. They aren't sitting at their desks reading email messages," said Amir Nehemia, CEO and cofounder of Connecteam.
"By using the Connecteam app to provide a better staff experience, Caremark can improve employee engagement and retention, which will translate into better care for customers, too."
Founded in 2016, Connecteam is used by 20,000 companies of all sizes across 80 countries in industries — including healthcare, construction, security, manufacturing, retail and hospitality — to help manage the estimated 80% of the global workforce, or 2.7 billion workers, who don't sit at desks.
The customizable app has features for communications, HR and operations, including scheduling, time tracking, attendance, learning and training, employee recognition and more.
Connecteam recently launched a free-for-life version of its software as a service (SaaS) for small businesses with up to 10 deskless employees.

"Our care assistants are the lifeblood of our business and I wanted to ensure they receive the exact support they need, be that training, access to documents or a place to chat with peers, as well as feeling valued, engaged and part of one big national team," said Glover.
"Connecteam checked every box we needed and more. Its ease of use and secure platform enabled us to implement the app quickly with rapid adoption across teams and employees.
"Most importantly, it has helped us foster a sense of belonging and encouragement across our entire remote workforce, which aptly aligns with our core value of caring for all people: customers, employees, franchise owners and care staff."
Caremark began using Connecteam earlier this year with three franchise offices and is now expanding use of the app throughout its entire network.

Accord legal group adds Clifford Chance, Perkins Coie

September 27, 2018 • by Nicky Morris

The Accord Project is the blockchain consortium that targets 'smart legal contracts'. The group already boasts many of the world's leading law firms as members. Their primary goal is to develop standards for distributed ledger applications for the legal industry.

Yesterday they announced several new members: Clifford Chance, Perkins Coie, Steptoe & Johnson, Pinsent Masons, Allens, and Baker Donelson.

The existing high profile members include Linklaters, Freshfields, and Allen & Overy. The group doesn't have quite as many of the leading US law firms, but they're making progress.

Technologies supported by the Accord project include Hyperledger Fabric, Corda, and Ethereum. Plus it's associated with a wide range of organizations including IEEE, Hyperledger, and the Sovrin identity network.

Peter Hunn, Founder of the Accord Project, said: "These new memberships are an important addition to other recent developments at the Project, such as the release of our legal domain-specific language and flagship technology partnerships with IBM and R3."

Genesis

R3 (formerly R3 CEV) started out as a family office in 2014.2 The "3" stood for the number of co-founders: David Rutter (CEO), Todd McDonald (COO), and Jesse Edwards (CFO). The "R" is the first initial of the CEO's last name. Very creative!

During the first year of its existence, R3 primarily looked at early stage startups in the fintech space. The "CEV" was an acronym: "crypto" and "consulting," "exchanges," and "ventures."

Throughout 2014, the family office kept hearing about how cryptocurrency companies were going to obliterate financial institutions and enterprises. So to better understand the ecosystem and drill into the enthusiasm around cryptocurrencies, R3 organized and held a series of round tables.

The first was held on September 23, 2014 in NYC and included talks from representatives of: DRW, Align Commerce, Perkins Coie, Boost VC, and Fintech Collective. Also in attendance were representatives from eight different banks.

The second round table was held on December 11, 2014 in Palo Alto and included talks from representatives of: Stanford, Andreessen Horowitz, Xapo, BitGo, Chain, Ripple, Mirror, and myself. Also in attendance were representatives from 11 different banks.

By the close of 2014, several people (including myself) had joined R3 as advisors and the family office had invested in several fintech startups including Align Commerce.

During the first quarter of 2015, David and his co-founders launched two new initiatives. The first was LiquidityEdge, a broker-dealer based in NYC that built a new electronic trading platform for US Treasurys.3 It is doing well and is wholly unrelated to R3's current DLT efforts.

🚨🚨 PRIORITIES

🟢 Larry Fink is a WEF board member and one of the founders of BlackRock, a PE company with $11,000,000,000,000 under management. That is greater than the GDP of every nation other than USA 🇺🇸 and China 🇨🇳.

During the government response to Covid, Fink helped facilitate the greatest wealth transfer from the poor to the wealthy, in real inflation adjusted terms, in the history of humanity.

Fink can use his influence to gain seats on the Board of Directors of companies like Tesla, Apple, Boeing and Proctor/Gamble. He leverages arbitrary ESG scores, a social credit system for corporations, to force Western corporations to adopt suicidal policies that benefit China 🇨🇳.

🔵 Keir Starmer, UK Prime Minister, is likewise a WEF member and a Fabian socialist.

Under his tenure, UK has ended winter fuel payments for around 10 million people and implemented an early-release scheme for thousands of prisoners. More recently he's been a proponent of censorship on social media.

Starmer is soon going to enforce an inheritance tax

Post your reply

Starmer is soon going to enforce an inheritance tax on land-rich / cash-poor local farmers. This will undoubtedly drive countless family farmers out of business forcing them to sell, to BlackRock affiliates perhaps. No doubt Fink won't mind paying a high price for the land, being that it's not his money, driving up assessments along with inflation, thus forcing more farmers into an inheritance tax death spiral.

Perhaps I'm missing something, but this has #Agenda2030 and "You will own nothing ... " written all over it.

Dr. Cheryl Fishbein is the current President of JCRC-NY and will assume the role of Chair on July 1st. Cheryl has a history of exemplary leadership to the Jewish community including serving as the Past Chair of the Jewish Council for Public Affairs, and has served on the Executive Council of the Conference of Presidents of Major Jewish Organizations. She is currently active in-UJA Federation New York, serves on its Presidents' Advisory Board, and is past chair of the Caring Department, the Missions Committee and the Trauma Task Force. Additional Jewish nonprofits that have benefited from Cheryl's board service include: the Jewish Agency for Israel, the JCC Association, the American Jewish Committee, Jewish Funders Network, JCC of Krakow, the Edith and Carl Marks Jewish Community House of Bensonhurst in Brooklyn, and many more.

Outside of Jewish communal life, Cheryl is a clinical psychologist and attorney with her own private practice, as well as a dedicated wife, mother, and grandmother.

Good Friday morning!
The hedge fund manager whose bet against a chain of gaming shops was targeted by individual investors who organize in online spaces inflected with antisemitism is also a philanthropist who gives to U.S. military families and a variety of Jewish causes.
The campaign against Gabe Plotkin's Melvin Capital began when he announced a short sale — essentially, a bet that a company's stock price will fall — of GameStop. Investors who congregate on a Reddit forum and a Discord server under the name "WallStreetBets" whipped up enthusiasm for GameStop shares by sowing hatred for the fund, generating a spike in the share price that almost destroyed Melvin Capital. Hedge fund giant Steven Cohen of Point72, a mentor of Plotkin's, stepped in, along with Ken Griffin's Citadel, to help bail him out.

II Melvin Capital Is Facing Nine Lawsuits Related to the GameStop Frenzy
As Melvin was pummeled by the trading frenzy, the hedge fund received a $2 billion investment from Citadel, which Plotkin insisted in his House testimony was not a bailout.
But the firm's ADV filing indicates that it was highly leveraged going into the GameStop debacle. Melvin had regulatory assets under management — which includes leverage — of $24.5 billion at the end of 2020, according to the ADV, filed March 8.

Bloomberg terminal illness." 4chan is a message board known for its antisemitism. Discord has banned the group for "hateful and discriminatory content."
In October, Plotkin joined the board of Children of Fallen Patriots Foundation, which provides scholarships to children who lost a parent in the line of duty. The Gabriel and Yaara Plotkin Family Foundation also made a donation of $100,000 to the Wounded Warrior Foundation in 2018, according to its most recent available tax filing. Eight of the foundation's 11 gifts went to Jewish groups, including Friends of the Israel Defense Forces, Park East Day School on Manhattan's Upper East Side and Chabad of Southampton.

ONE APP MANAGES 7,000 REMOTE CAREGIVERS AT 115 FRANCHISES

UK's Caremark chooses an Israeli startup's workforce management app to increase productivity and retention among deskless workers.

UK-based national homecare franchise provider Caremark is using an app from Tel Aviv-based Connecteam to manage and engage more than 7,000 remote caregivers across some 115 franchise offices.

According to Caremark CEO David Glover, Caremark needed a better way to engage its distributed deskless workforce and improve communications among its

"The homecare industry employs hundreds of thousands of people in multiple locations, all working tirelessly to assist people in their homes. They aren't sitting at their desks reading email messages," said Amir Nehemia, CEO and cofounder of Connecteam.

"By using the Connecteam app to provide a better staff experience, Caremark can improve employee engagement and retention, which will translate into better care for customers, too."

Founded in 2016, Connecteam is used by 20,000 companies of all sizes across 80 countries in industries — including healthcare, construction, security, manufacturing, retail and hospitality — to help manage the estimated 80% of the global workforce, or 2.7 billion workers, who don't sit at desks.

The customizable app has features for communications, HR and operations, including scheduling, time tracking, attendance, learning and training, employee recognition and more.

Connecteam recently launched a free-for-life version of its software as a service (SaaS) for small businesses with up to 10 deskless employees.

"Our care assistants are the lifeblood of our business and I wanted to ensure they receive the exact support they need, be that training, access to documents or a place to chat with peers, as well as feeling valued, engaged and part of one big national team," said Glover.

"Connecteam checked every box we needed and more. Its ease of use and secure platform enabled us to implement the app quickly with rapid adoption across teams and employees.

"Most importantly, it has helped us foster a sense of belonging and encouragement across our entire remote workforce, which aptly aligns with our core value of caring for all people: customers, employees, franchise owners and care staff."

Caremark began using Connecteam earlier this year with three franchise offices and is now expanding use of the app throughout its entire network.

(A REEEEEAL shame.)

✅CONNECTEAM raised $300,000 in an initial SEED FUNDING ROUND from D5 CAPITAL in FEBRUARY 2016, and another $1,000,000 in SEED FUNDING later that SEPTEMBER, from an undisclosed investor.

✅In JANUARY 2021, CONNECTEAM raised additional capital (undisclosed) from "GOOGLE FOR STARTUPS", to "gain strategic support and resources".

✅In APRIL 2021, CONNECTEAM raised an additional $37,000,000 in a SERIES B ROUND from INSIGHT PARTNERS, O.G. VENTURE PARTNERS and…

…AVISHAI ABRAHAMI, the FOUNDER & CEO of WIX.COM and "former" IDF UNIT 8200 OFFICER!!!

There's our boy, AVISHAI ABRAHAMI again!

Speak of the Devil!🤣

That said, what the heck is O.G. VENTURE PARTNERS? Not sure I've ever heard of them.🤔

HINT: They're gon' be a BIG deal, folks. Bet.

SIDE BAR: Y'all remember how AFTER THE STOLEN 2022 ELECTIONS IN AZ (and TX, WI, MI, etc.) I KEPT SAYING that ALL of these election integrity enemies, limited hangouts, glowie spooks, controlled opposition clowns and Israeli spies we kept running into were ALL using WIX.COM for their personal and/or their organizations's domains for a reason… because they were literally working against us on behalf of ISRAELI INTERESTS the whole time?!?!

Hoo boy, buckle up, frens.

(Your boy… does… not… miss.❤️)

✅CONNECTEAM raised $120,000,000 from INSIGHT PARTNERS, STRIPES and TIGER GLOBAL MANAGEMENT during their SERIES C ROUND in MARCH 2022.

Believe it or not, TIGER GLOBAL MANAGEMENT will ALSO be incredibly relevant to the CONNECTEAM plot, folks.

As an officer in the Israeli Navy, Amir Nehemia found few things more frustrating than trying to communicate essential information to soldiers in the field. Out from behind their desks, and without access to email, they could only be reached by phone calls.

After leaving the Navy, he realized it was also a problem many blue-collar workers faced. So in 2016, he and friends Daniel Nuriel, 32, and Yonatan Nuriel, 30, founded Connecteam, a smartphone app that allows employers to communicate with, train and schedule deskless employees in industries such as retail, construction and manufacturing, says CEO Nehemia, 33.

On Wednesday, the startup announced it had raised $37 million from investors including Insight Partners,

On Wednesday, the startup announced it had raised $37 million from investors including Insight Partners, O.G. Tech and Israeli software company Wix's leadership team, bringing the New York-based company's total funding to $40 million at a valuation Nehemia says is more than $100 million.

Though large companies like Nike, Sodexo and SodaStream use Connecteam to manage their workers, Nehemia says many of his 10,000 clients are small mom-and-pop businesses.

"If you have more than 70% of your employees without any access to PCs or corporate email, it's difficult to manage your day-to-day, because you can't use Slack," he says. "There is a new generation of employees. They don't want to work with pen and paper, and they are not going to send a fax. They want a tech solution."

Deskless workers can use the app to schedule shifts, clock in and out, create operational reports and complete daily checklists. In turn, employers can train and onboard new employees, as well as communicate with workers through announcements, surveys and live polls. Employers pay a monthly fee (starting at $39) to use the app, though a free, basic version is also available, Nehemia says.

Many of the hospitality businesses that used Connecteam have shuttered as a result of the pandemic, but Nehemia says that hasn't stunted the company's growth. In 2020, it saw its customer base grow more than 400%, something Nehemia attributes to an increase in usage by those in the security and cleaning industries. He now counts more than 150,000 active users in over 60 countries.

Nehemia acknowledges that Connecteam isn't the only startup capitalizing on remote work trends. For example, global remote onboarding platforms like Deel and Remote have seen massive growth this past year, as has workforce marketplace startup Shiftsmart, which also allows blue-collar workers to schedule shifts via a smartphone app. But Nehemia says he sees a huge market for his product, as 80% of the global workforce doesn't have a desk job, according to a study by venture capital firm Emergence Capital.

Connecteam is one of the few focusing on the deskless blue-collar worker and building features that take their preferences into account, he says. For instance, while most of the app's users speak English, some can't write in the language, so Connecteam created a voice recording feature for these employees.

It's this people-first focus that led Avishai Abrahami, Wix's CEO, to invest in the company. "I am not

What's Next for Connecteam?
Connecteam stands at the cusp of significant growth, with opportunities to expand its platform functionality and customer base, particularly in North America. The deskless workforce, which makes up 80% of the global workforce, presents a vast market. The company's rapid growth, marked by a 400% annual increase in revenues, underscores its potential to capture a larger share of this market.
Future fundraising opportunities appear promising, with strong interest from existing investors like Stripes and Insight Partners. However, Connecteam will need to navigate challenges such as intense competition and maintaining scalability while ensuring the platform remains user-friendly. The company's ability to adapt to diverse industry needs will be crucial for sustained success.

Career
Ofer's business interests are separate from those of his brother, Idan Ofer, operating independently,[9] and are concentrated in shipping, cruise lines and global real estate within the Ofer Global group,[10] a Monaco-based private company focused on shipping, real estate, oil and gas, banking and investments in Europe, North America, the Near East and Asia.[11]
In 2014, he received an honorary lifetime membership of the Baltic Exchange in London in recognition of his contribution to shipping in the UK and global maritime trade.[8] Other recipients of this award have included the Duke of Edinburgh, Winston Churchill, and Maersk Mc-Kinney.[12]
He is "one of the most influential shipowners in the industry", according to Lloyd's List, ranking among its 100 most influential people, since 2013,[13] including as tenth in 2016,[14] and seventh in 2014,[13] 2021,[15] and 2022.[16]
He has spoken at industry events, including at the Milken Institute Global Conference in 2012, 2013 and 2015.[17][18][19][20] Ofer also regularly attends the World Economic Forum's annual meeting in Davos.[21]
In 2018, Ofer joined the Advisory Board of the Bloomberg New Economy Forum.[22] The board is made up of a group of leaders in their fields from business, government, education and philanthropy.[23]
In November 2024, Bloomberg Billionaires Index reported his net worth to be US$26.5 billion.[24]

In 2022, Ofer was ranked 7th in the Lloyd's List Top 100 Most Influential People in the Shipping Industry. According to Lloyd's List, "the consensus view from those who know Eyal Ofer best is that he is a man who understands the markets with forensic detail".[16] He controls one of the largest private shipping fleets in the world,[21] and is the third-largest non-operating owner of containerships in the world.[15]
Energy
Through O.G. Energy, he is involved in energy production, including renewable energy, and the production of green hydrogen. In 2022, he invested in Belgium-based green hydrogen energy startup Tree Energy Solutions (TES), through O.G. Energy.[39] Through O.G. Oil & Gas, the oil and gas arm of Ofer Global's O.G. Energy division, he has exploration and production interests in South East Asia and in Australasia, including a 70% majority stake in New Zealand Oil & Gas (NZOG), acquired in 2017.[40][41][42][43][44]
In October 2018, O.G. Energy agreed to acquire a 40 per cent stake in Beach Energy's Otway Basin assets off the south east coast of Australia.[45] In 1990, he also founded OMNI Offshore Terminals, the largest provider of floating production storage and offloading (FSO and FPSO) assets to the offshore oil and gas industry, with headquarters in Singapore.[46]
Technology
Ofer has interests in technology companies[47][48][49][50] through single LP VC fund O.G. Venture Partners,[51][52] the tech investment arm of Ofer Global.[50] Its $150 million Fund I launched in 2017 to invest in early growth start-ups with disruptive technologies,[50][53] including SuperPlay, a mobile gaming company acquired by Playtika in 2024 for $700 million[54] plus a contingent amount of up to $1.25 billion, depending on performance over three years.[55]
In 2022, Ofer stated that "Technology has become the global economy's central nervous system" at the launch of O.G. Venture Partners $400 million Fund II, continuing his focus on early growth stage investments in software tech start-ups.[53]

Idan Ofer (Hebrew: עידן עופר; born 2 October 1955) is an Israeli billionaire businessman and philanthropist, with interests in shipping, energy, mining and sports. He is the founder of the principal of the Quantum Pacific Group, a holding company. He is majority shareholder of the Israel Corporation, listed on the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange, as well as Kenon Holdings, listed on the Tel Aviv and New York Stock Exchange. He is also the owner of the Israeli holding company Lynav Holdings and the Dutch-based Ansonia Holdings.[2]

Ofer owns a 33% stake in Spain's La Liga association football club Atlético Madrid,[3][4] and an 85% stake in Portugal's Primeira Liga association football club Famalicão.[5][4]

As of February 2025, Forbes estimated his net worth to be US$17.7 billion.[6] In the Sunday Times Rich List 2025 ranking of the wealthiest people in the UK he was placed 5th with an estimated fortune of £20.121 billion.[7]

Early life

Idan Ofer is the son of the Israeli billionaire Sammy Ofer (originally Shmuel Herskovich) and Aviva Ofer.[6] His father was an Israeli shipping magnate who immigrated to Israel from Romania.[6][8][9] His older brother is Israeli businessman Eyal Ofer.[6] His uncle is Yuli Ofer. [citation needed]

Ofer grew up in Haifa, Israel, to a family of Ashkenazi Jewish (Romanian-Jewish) descent.[6][8][9] He was enlisted as to mandatory military service in the Israeli Navy, serving as deputy commander of a patrol boat. He graduated from the University of Haifa, Israel, with a Bachelor of Science in Economics and Shipping.[10][11] He then received a Master's in Business Administration from the London Business School in the 1980s.[10][12][13] He has been married four times.[8] His fourth wife is Batia Ofer, an art collector and charity fundraiser.[14][15] He has five children.[6] They resided in Arsuf, Israel (near Tel Aviv) until 2013.[16] His daughter Leigh Ofer resides in New York City; his other children reside in London.[6]

Business career

He started his career by expanding the family shipping business in Hong Kong in the 1980s.[8][11] He then worked in Singapore and the United States.[1][17]

He is the principal of the Quantum Pacific Group, a Guernsey-based holding corporation,[6][18] and the Israel Corporation, one of the largest public holding listed on the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange.[6][18] He served as the Chairman of the Israel Corporation from 1999 to 2010, and as a member of its board of directors from 1999 to 2013.[10][11] He has served on the Advisory Boards of Synergy Ventures and Aspect Enterprise Solutions.[10] He was an investor in Better Place, an electric car company which went bankrupt in May 2013.[6]

In 2014, he established Kenon Holdings as a spin off from the Israel Ships Corporation.[19][20] It is a holding company primarily focused on growth-orientated businesses in the automotive and energy industries.[21] It inherited some of the investments previously held by the Israel Corporation, such as Qoros, a joint project created in partnership with Chery Automobile that manufactures automobiles aimed towards a 'young, internationally minded' market in China.[20][22][23] Other investments include Zim Integrated Shipping Services and IC Power.[20] It also includes Inkia Energy, a Peruvian energy company and subsidiary of the IC Power.[24][25]

He served on the advisory board of the Council on Foreign Relations and the Dean's Council of the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University.[10][11] With Richard Branson and others, he is a co-founder of the Carbon War Room, a think tank on climate change based in Washington, D.C.[6][11][26] According to The Financial Times, he is "a Tel Aviv liberal in the mould of the old Israeli Labour party."[6]

After his father's death in 2011, he inherited half his father's fortune and collection of modern art.[6] As a result, by 2013, he was the richest man in Israel.[18][27] According to Forbes, Ofer has a net worth of $13.9 billion.[6]

In March 2022, Israel Corp controlled by Idan Ofer sold 20.17 million shares at $10.90 per share for an overall $220 million.[28]

By February 2023, the Israel Corporation sold all its shares in Oil Refineries to David Federmann, as part of the company's efforts to reduce its carbon footprint.[29][30][31] Meanwhile, the Israel Corporation retains investments in Israel Chemicals.[20]

In October 2023, Idan Ofer resigned from Dean's executive board of Harvard Kennedy School, in response to the University's leader response to Hamas' terror attacks on Israel. Idan Ofer and his wife Batia told in their statement that their "faith in the University's leadership has been broken" and that they "cannot in good faith continue to support Harvard and its committees".[32]

As per Forbes list of The Richest People In The World, dated 8 March 2024 Idan Ofer ranked #120 with a net worth of $15.8 Billion.[33]

Sports

In 2018, Ofer purchased a 51% stake via Quantum Pacific Group in Portuguese second league football club Famalicão, which he subsequently increased to 85% in 2019.[5] In 2019,

Sammy Ofer (Hebrew: סמי עופר; born Shmuel Herskovich; 22 February 1922 – 3 June 2011)[2] was an Israeli shipping magnate and one of the richest men in the country.

Early life

Shmuel Herskovich was born in 1922 in Galați, Romania, to a Jewish family.[3] In 1924, his family immigrated to the then British Mandate of Palestine. The family resided in the city of Haifa. With the start of World War II, he enlisted in the British Royal Navy.[3] During the 1948 Arab-Israeli War, he served in the Israeli Sea Corps.

Career

After finishing his military service, he became a shipping agent with the Eastern Conglomerate, and by 1950 had bought his first ship. He expanded in the shipping business.[4]

Ofer's assets were partly in his exclusive ownership and partly owned together with his brother Yuli, consisting of one of the largest private shipping companies in the world, with a value of $3.6 billion in 2011.[5] This includes the companies ZIM, Royal Caribbean International, Israel Corporation, Israel Chemicals, Oil Refineries Ltd, Bank Mizrahi-Tfahot, and Tower Semiconductor.

The annual Forbes magazine's list of The World's Billionaires

Judah "Yuli" Ofer (Hebrew: יהודה "יולי" עופר; 1924 – September 11, 2011) was an Israeli businessman in real estate and industry, and one of the wealthiest people in Israel.[1] A member of the Ofer family, the annual Forbes magazine's list of The World's Billionaires estimated in 2011 his fortune, together with that of his elder brother Sammy, to be $10.3 billion, ranked him in 2011 as the 79th in wealthiest people in the world, and the wealthiest man in Israel.[4]

Nationality	Israeli
Occupation(s)	Businessman and shipping tycoon
Children	Doron Ofer, Liora Ofer
Relatives	Sammy Ofer (brother) Idan and Eyal Ofer (nephews)

Life and career

Yuli Ofer was born in 1924[1] in Romania. The Ofer family immigrated to Mandate Palestine while Yuli was six months old. The family lived in Haifa. Yuli Ofer served in the Israeli Defense Forces in infantry and ended his relatively long military career at the rank of major. Afterwards he began his business career in Haifa, where he supplied equipment for ships and along with his brother Sammy they both established the Ofer Brothers Group. In 1956 he and Sammy established the shipping company "Mediterranean routes". [citation needed]

During the 1960s and 1970s the Ofer Brothers Group became an international shipping company as Yuli Ofer became in charge of conducting the company's operations in Israel and Sammy Ofer became in charge of conducting the company's international operations. In the 1980s the Ofer Brothers Group began getting into the tanker industry in Hong Kong and Singapore. With time they also established a subsidiary company which focused on cruise ships named "Royal Caribbean". In 1994 the Ofer Brothers were among the purchasers of the controlling interest in the Mizrahi Bank, and in 1999 the family purchased the Israel's largest holding company Israel Corporation and in addition acquired several properties from the Israeli government among them the Oil Refineries in Haifa, Israel Chemicals and Zim Integrated Shipping Services. [citation needed]

Yuli Ofer founded the "Meliseron" company which specializes in real estate and owned several shopping malls in Israel: Ramat Aviv Mall, Renanim Mall, Kiryon Mall and 20 other shopping centers. [citation needed]

In 2002, the Ofer brothers separated their assets: Sammy Ofer's assets in real estate and in the Mizrahi bank was transferred to his brother Yuli, and in exchange Yuli's assets in the Israel Corporation holding company were transferred to Sammy.

Death

Yuli Ofer died on 11 September 2011, aged 87 at his home in Herzliya; his brother Sammy Ofer had died a few months prior.[5] Ofer's death sparked an inheritance dispute between his children Liora and Doron Ofer. In 2008 Yuli Ofer had changed his will to leave most of his assets to his daughter Liora.[6]

21st century

2000s

In 2004, the Israel Corporation (which is controlled by the Ofer Brothers Group) purchased 49% of ZIM's shares held by the Israeli government, becoming the sole owner of the company.[11] The new official name after privatization became ZIM Integrated Shipping Services. The purchase deal for about five hundred million New Israeli Shekels was severely criticized by the press[12] and the State Comptroller of Israel[13] as being undervalued and becoming just another flag of convenience company. In 2007, ZIM sold its maritime logistics and forwarding services subsidiary NewLog to UTi Worldwide.[14]

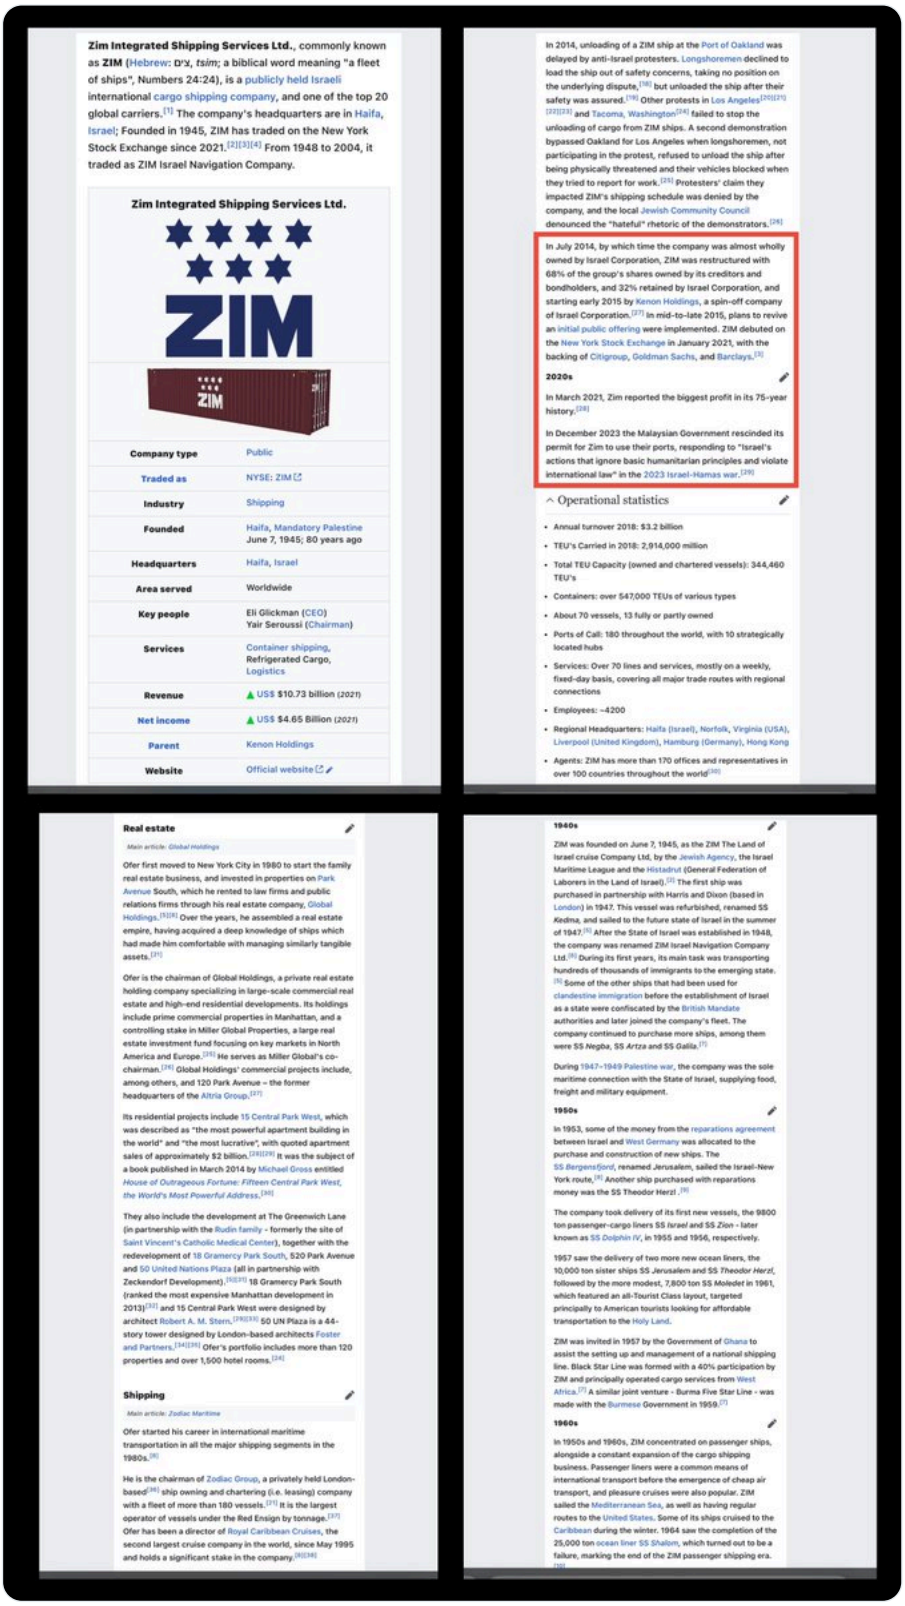
ZIM Barcelona off California, 2008

In 2008, ZIM planned to launch an initial public offering and selling 25% of its shares on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, but due to the onset of the global economic crisis it was called off.[15] In 2009, ZIM required a cash injection of $450 million by the Ofer family and debt restructuring following the world's container shipping downturn.[16]

2010s

In 2010, ZIM regained profitability and in early 2011 ZIM renewed its plans for a flotation on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, but again had to postpone it due to the economic downturn and the drop in container shipping rates.[17]

In 2014, unloading of a ZIM ship at the Port of Oakland was delayed by anti-Israel protesters. Longshoremen declined to load the ship out of safety concerns, taking no position on the underlying dispute,[18] but unloaded the ship after their safety was assured.[19] Other protests in Los Angeles[20][21]



Zim Integrated Shipping Services Ltd., commonly known as ZIM (Hebrew: צים, tsim; a biblical word meaning "a fleet of ships", Numbers 24:24), is a publicly held Israeli international cargo shipping company, and one of the top 20 global carriers.[1] The company's headquarters are in Haifa, Israel; Founded in 1945, ZIM has traded on the New York Stock Exchange since 2021.[2][3][4] From 1948 to 2004, it traded as ZIM Israel Navigation Company.

In 2014, unloading of a ZIM ship at the Port of Oakland was delayed by anti-Israel protesters. Longshoremen declined to load the ship out of safety concerns, taking no position on the underlying dispute,[18] but unloaded the ship after their safety was assured.[19] Other protests in Los Angeles[20][21][22][23] and Tacoma, Washington[24] failed to stop the unloading of cargo from ZIM ships. A second demonstration bypassed Oakland for Los Angeles when longshoremen, not participating in the protest, refused to unload the ship after being physically threatened and their vehicles blocked when they tried to report for work.[25] Protesters' claim they impacted ZIM's shipping schedule was denied by the company, and the local Jewish Community Council denounced the "hateful" rhetoric of the demonstrators.[26]
In July 2014, by which time the company was almost wholly owned by Israel Corporation, ZIM was restructured with 68% of the group's shares owned by its creditors and bondholders, and 32% retained by Israel Corporation, and starting early 2015 by Kenon Holdings, a spin-off company of Israel Corporation.[27] In mid-to-late 2015, plans to revive an initial public offering were implemented. ZIM debuted on the New York Stock Exchange in January 2021, with the backing of Citigroup, Goldman Sachs, and Barclays.[3]
2020s
In March 2021, Zim reported the biggest profit in its 75-year history.[28]
In December 2023 the Malaysian Government rescinded its permit for Zim to use their ports, responding to "Israel's actions that ignore basic humanitarian principles and violate international law" in the 2023 Israel-Hamas war.[29]

Real estate
Main article: Global Holdings
Ofer first moved to New York City in 1980 to start the family real estate business, and invested in properties on Park Avenue South, which he rented to law firms and public relations firms through his real estate company, Global Holdings.[5][6] Over the years, he assembled a real estate empire, having acquired a deep knowledge of ships which had made him comfortable with managing similarly tangible assets.[31]
Ofer is the chairman of Global Holdings, a private real estate holding company specializing in large-scale commercial real estate and high-end residential developments. Its holdings include prime commercial properties in Manhattan, and a controlling stake in Miller Global Properties, a large real estate investment fund focusing on key markets in North America and Europe.[32] He serves as Miller Global's co-chairman.[26] Global Holdings' commercial projects include, among others, and 120 Park Avenue – the former headquarters of the Altria Group.[27]
Its residential projects include 15 Central Park West, which was described as "the most powerful apartment building in the world" and "the most lucrative", with quoted apartment sales of approximately $2 billion.[29][29] It was the subject of a book published in March 2014 by Michael Gross entitled House of Outrageous Fortune: Fifteen Central Park West, the World's Most Powerful Address.[30]
They also include the development at The Greenwich Lane (in partnership with the Rudin family - formerly the site of Saint Vincent's Catholic Medical Center), together with the redevelopment of 18 Gramercy Park South, 520 Park Avenue and 50 United Nations Plaza (all in partnership with Zeckendorf Development).[10][33] 18 Gramercy Park South (ranked the most expensive Manhattan development in 2013)[33] and 15 Central Park West were designed by architect Robert A. M. Stern.[29][33] 50 UN Plaza is a 44-story tower designed by London-based architects Foster and Partners.[34][35] Ofer's portfolio includes more than 120 properties and over 1,500 hotel rooms.[34]
Shipping
Main article: Zodiac Maritime
Ofer started his career in international maritime transportation in all the major shipping segments in the 1980s.[36]
He is the chairman of Zodiac Group, a privately held London-based[36] ship owning and chartering (i.e. leasing) company with a fleet of more than 180 vessels.[21] It is the largest operator of vessels under the Red Ensign by tonnage.[37] Ofer has been a director of Royal Caribbean Cruises, the second largest cruise company in the world, since May 1995 and holds a significant stake in the company.[10][38]
1940s
ZIM was founded on June 7, 1945, as the ZIM The Land of Israel cruise Company Ltd. by the Jewish Agency, the Israel Maritime League and the Histadrut (General Federation of Laborers in the Land of Israel).[2] The first ship was purchased in partnership with Harris and Dixon (based in London) in 1947. This vessel was refurbished, renamed SS Kedma, and sailed to the future state of Israel in the summer of 1947.[5] After the State of Israel was established in 1948, the company was renamed ZIM Israel Navigation Company Ltd.[2] During its first years, its main task was transporting hundreds of thousands of immigrants to the emerging state.[5] Some of the other ships that had been used for clandestine immigration before the establishment of Israel as a state were confiscated by the British Mandate authorities and later joined the company's fleet. The company continued to purchase more ships, among them were SS Negba, SS Artza and SS Galila.[7]
During 1947–1949 Palestine war, the company was the sole maritime connection with the State of Israel, supplying food, freight and military equipment.
1950s
In 1953, some of the money from the reparations agreement between Israel and West Germany was allocated to the purchase and construction of new ships. The SS Bergensfjord, renamed Jerusalem, sailed the Israel-New York route.[8] Another ship purchased with reparations money was the SS Theodor Herzl .[9]
The company took delivery of its first new vessels, the 9800 ton passenger-cargo liners SS Israel and SS Zion - later known as SS Dolphin IV, in 1955 and 1956, respectively.
1957 saw the delivery of two more new ocean liners, the 10,000 ton sister ships SS Jerusalem and SS Theodor Herzl, followed by the more modest, 7,800 ton SS Moledet in 1961, which featured an all-Tourist Class layout, targeted principally to American tourists looking for affordable transportation to the Holy Land.
ZIM was invited in 1957 by the Government of Ghana to assist the setting up and management of a national shipping line. Black Star Line was formed with a 40% participation by ZIM and principally operated cargo services from West Africa.[7] A similar joint venture - Burma Five Star Line - was made with the Burmese Government in 1959.[7]
1960s
In 1950s and 1960s, ZIM concentrated on passenger ships, alongside a constant expansion of the cargo shipping business. Passenger liners were a common means of international transport before the emergence of cheap air transport, and pleasure cruises were also popular. ZIM sailed the Mediterranean Sea, as well as having regular routes to the United States. Some of its ships cruised to the Caribbean during the winter. 1964 saw the completion of the 25,000 ton ocean liner SS Shalom, which turned out to be a failure, marking the end of the ZIM passenger shipping era.[39]
